- A brand new technology for added comfort
- Removable cover for easy cleaning

The Zero G electric rise and recline armchair features a completely new system. This system gently tilts the entire seat backwards, placing the user in an extremely comfortable, relaxed position with minimal pressure points. The Zero Gravity position can be used at any time. The entire chocolate-coloured microfibre cover is removable. The microfibre fabric can be machine washed. This part is attached to the frame with Velcro.

2-motor Okin model allowing users to move into the zero-G position only when in the reclined position.

3-motor Okin model allowing users to move into the reclined position even when sitting or semi-reclined.

Choice of 2 colours : brown imitation leather and chocolate colour microfibre or grey imitation leather and anthracite colour microfibre.
