

Magnetic therapy at home

- 838040

- Accelerator of the healing process
- Pre-defined programmes

Magnetic therapy is a method used in conventional medicine in many countries to relieve pathologies such as arthritis and joint pain. It also accelerates the healing process, reduces inflammation and promotes blood circulation.

Numerous indications: muscle tears, tendonitis, neck pain, healing, carpal tunnel... 46 memorised programmes and 2 to be programmed yourself.

Frequency adjustable from 1 to 100 Hz. Intensity up to 150 gauss per channel. 2 independent channels. Medical device.

Delivered with 2 application straps with 3 solenoids, a verification magnet, a user manual and a carrying bag.

Mains powered.

Dimensions: 180 x 110 x 50 mm.